Research Centers and Institutes

Center for Counseling and School Psychology Valerie Cook-Morales, Director

The Center for Counseling and School Psychology is a unit within the College of Education designed to provide support for activities such as (1) securing and administering grants and other support for research and development in counseling and school psychology, (2) encouraging cooperation with faculty members from other relevant disciplines such as anthropology, economics, psychology, social work, sociology, and Counseling and Psychological Services, and (3) conducting programs or rendering services designed to promote counseling and school psychology at San Diego State University. The Center is administered by the Department of Counseling and School Psychology; fiscal matters are coordinated through the San Diego State University Foundation.

Center for Educational Leadership, Innovation, and Policy Ann I. Morey, Director

The Center for Educational Leadership, Innovation, and Policy examines issues that affect policies and practices of educational institutions, including their implications for leadership, planning, innovation, and organizational development. The Center engages in research, development, and dissemination activities that focus on a few critical educational issues. As a result of its policy analysis and research, the center develops plans and programs which enhance organizational capacity to respond to the challenges and opportunities and which lead to the improvement of practice.

Interwork Institute Fred R. McFarlane and Ian R. Pumpian, Co-Directors

The Institute's efforts focus on promoting the integration of all individuals, including those with disabilities, into all aspects of education, work, family, and community life. The Institute conducts research, training, and education using a variety of strategies including distance learning technologies. Educational and research efforts involve organizations and individuals in the states, the Pacific Basin, Asia, Mexico, South America, and Europe. Faculty and staff associated with the Institute are uniquely prepared to promote the meaningful participation and productivity of each member of the community. The Institute's mission is supported through local, state, federal, and international organizations. The Institute's facilities are located at 3890 Camino del Rio North in Mission Valley.

Center for Learning, Instruction, and Performance Technologies Donn C. Ritchie, Director

The Center's faculty and staff conducts research on the design and use of technology-based systems for enhancing human learning and performance, monitors trends in advanced applications of educational technology and allied disciplines, and evaluates the effectiveness and usability of educational products and services.

The Center consults with corporations, agencies, and SDSU affiliates on the design of products for education and training, arranges for on-site and electronic delivery of professional development courses and seminars by the nationally recognized faculty of SDSU Department of Educational Technology, and coordinates fieldwork and internship opportunities for advanced graduate students.

Pre-College Institute (PCI) Cynthia D. Park, Executive Director

The faculty and staff of the Pre-College Institute (PCI), an Institute to provide and promote the advancement of pre-college education, implements programs to enhance teaching and learning in multicultural settings and studies their outcomes. The Institute, operating from the University's historic strength in teacher education and its proximity to Mexico, delivers services geared towards promoting educational advancement among pre-college students from low-income families. The Institute also supports continuous professional enhancement of teachers from all cultural backgrounds and conducts systematic research and evaluation of the programs that deliver these services.

The Institute offers services through five federally funded TRIO programs and partnerships with the Colleges of Science, Engineering, and Health and Human Services, as well as the Division of Undergraduate Studies and the City Heights Pilot Project. The Institute's international branch offers exchange opportunities for University faculty and students to visit and study in other countries.

Center for Social Equity Technical Assistance Ruben W. Espinosa and Alberto M. Ochoa, Co-Directors

The Center conducts training and research on issues of social equity and bilingual/multicultural policy, and provides technical assistance to districts throughout southern California. The Center conducts research in public equity and school finance. The Center houses projects funded by federal, state, and private sources. Current projects include the Parent Leadership and the Social Equity project. The Center functions within the Department of Policy Studies in Language and Cross-Cultural Education at San Diego State University.

Center for the Study of International Education Donn C. Ritchie and Laura J. Hall, Co-Directors

The Center for the Study of International Education is a unit of the College of Education. It promotes faculty and graduate student research, explores study abroad and exchange possibilities for faculty and students, and disseminates information about international education to interested persons in the San Diego area. It also seeks to complement regular course offerings through sponsorship of lectures, conferences, and the development of bibliographic resources.

The Center seeks to foster not only a network of interested faculty within the College of Education, but also encourages faculty involvement from other colleges on campus as well as from other organizations and universities in the San Diego area.
