Associateships

Graduate teaching associateships in French are available to a limited number of qualified students. Application forms and additional information may be secured from the Department of European Studies.

General Information

Research areas of the graduate faculty cover most periods of French and Francophone literature and culture. In particular, the department includes specialists in fields such as Francophone literature and cultural studies, medieval and renaissance cultural studies, eighteenth century literature, theatre and film studies, and second language acquisition and technology. SDSU houses a federally-funded National Language Resource Center, which conducts research and dissemination projects in all areas of language and culture. Further, we have a state-of-the-art research library.

The graduate program in French offers opportunities for well-qualified M.A. candidates to complete up to nine units of their 30 unit official program on a study abroad program. Graduate students may participate in the CSU International Programs, ISEP, or the SDSU Paris Semester. An M.A. degree earned in the program can provide students with university-level teaching experience and access to community college level teaching positions. Students who earn an M.A. in French at SDSU may also continue on to a Ph.D. program or pursue a variety of careers in areas where knowledge of French language and culture are necessary.
